8) Inactive Status

Certifications at any level may be made “inactive” for a minimum of one (1) year and a maximum of three (3) years with IBADCC approval. The intention of the “inactive status” is to provide an avenue for certified members to place their certification “on hold” in the event of major life challenges, such as illnesses, deaths in the family, etc. Certified members must submit a letter of request to the IBADCC.

During the period of inactivity, the counselor cannot receive payment for services performed in the substance abuse field and must submit twenty (20) hours of continuing education units annually, which includes the required two hours of Ethics training, and to abide by the IBADCC Code of Ethics. No certification fee will be charged during the period of inactivity and no certificate will be issued. To return to active status, the counselor must pay the current renewal fee.

Please note: An “inactive status” cannot be requested for a certification which is lapsed or under a current ethics investigation.

9) Residency

As an IC&RC member board, Idaho subscribes to the residency requirement of IC&RC. Persons applying for IC&RC reciprocal level certification through the IBADCC must live or work a minimum of 51% of the time in Idaho at the time of application (this does not apply to reciprocity; only initial application).

If a counselor lives or works in an IC&RC state, they must certify in that state. If a counselor lives or works in a non-IC&RC state, that counselor is allowed to certify in an IC&RC state, including Idaho.

10) Reciprocity Procedures

The Idaho Board of Certification has membership in the International Certification and Reciprocity Consortium (IC&RC). Counselors who possess valid certification from the IBADCC can request reciprocal recognition from other IC&RC member states and bodies. Advanced Certified Alcohol/Drug Counselors can obtain IBADCC credentialing upon application, without retesting, provided they are from an IC&RC state or body possessing the combined alcohol/drug credentialing. Reciprocity is not granted to any counselor certified in a non-member state.

RECIPROCITY INTO IBADCC: Addiction professionals certified by an IC&RC member board who relocate to Idaho may transfer their credential to the IBADCC using the reciprocity process. No additional requirements will have to be met by the certified professional using this process to transfer their credential to Idaho. To begin the reciprocity process, certified addiction professionals must:

- Contact their current board and request an Application for Reciprocity
- Complete the one-page application and return it to their current board with the appropriate fee
- The application will be verified and sent to the IC&RC Office, once approved will notify IBADCC
- IBADCC will then issue their new certification for the State of Idaho
- The certified addiction professional will then be expected to follow all requirements for certification through IBADCC

RECIPROCITY OUT OF IBADCC: Addiction professionals certified by the IBADCC who relocate to another state, country, or nation may transfer their credential to the new jurisdiction using the reciprocity process only if the new jurisdiction is an IC&RC member board. Reciprocity to a non-IC&RC member board is not permitted. Additional requirements may be imposed upon the certified addiction professional depending on the laws and regulations governing the practice of addiction related services in the new jurisdiction. Therefore, certified addiction professionals are strongly encouraged to contact the IC&RC member board in the new jurisdiction to determine if any additional requirements must be met. To begin the reciprocity process, certified addiction professionals must:

- Contact IBADCC and request an Application for Reciprocity
- Complete the one-page application and return it to IBADCC with the appropriate fee
- The application will be verified and sent to the IC&RC Office; once approved will notify the new jurisdiction board
- The new jurisdiction will then issue the certified addiction professional the equivalent credential offered by IBADCC unless laws or regulations governing the practice of addiction related services in the new jurisdiction must first be met

Section II:

Definitions and descriptions of specific skill sets needed for certification

- 1) Documentation of Supervision Requirements
- 2) 12 Core Functions of a Substance Abuse Counselor
- 3) Performance Domains and Tasks

1) Instructions for Documentation of Supervision

The Supervisor MUST document supervision (see Supervision Verification form in Section IV of this manual) of 300 hours in each of the 12 Core Functions, with a minimum of ten (10) hours in each core function.

Please note: If supervision has occurred at more than one agency, documentation must be completed for each agency where supervision occurred.

A supervisor shall be interpreted to mean, a person who is knowledgeable of chemical dependency treatment and rehabilitation methods and has the ability to judge the capability and competence of an addictions counselor.

The supervisor must be willing to accept the responsibility of monitoring and evaluating the performance of the addictions counselor “trainee” and hold one of the following certifications and provide documentation of training:

1. a CADC who has been certified for 3 years and has completed 15 hours of training in supervision
- OR 2. an ACADC
- OR 3. a CCS
- OR 4. a person with a Master’s Degree and license in addictions counseling or a Master’s Degree and a certification in addictions counseling
- OR 5. an approved Health & Welfare Clinical Supervisor (QP) under IDAPA 16.07.20.02

Supervision forms are provided in Section IV of this manual.

Modes of Supervision:

Supervision can be delivered in a variety of modes and mediums. Methods of supervision include, but are not limited to:

INDIVIDUAL SUPERVISION

Face-to-Face: Involves a one-to-one supervisor/supervisee relationship; implies regularly scheduled meetings to be conducted for the purpose of supervision.

Appraisal (with intermittent Performance reviewed): This method involves the formal agency process of annual evaluation. It is the overall summation, the total overview of a counselor’s performance.

Assigned Reading: This implies the developmental and educational aspect of supervision. Reading materials may be a supportive and constructive component of the supervision process.

Audio Tape Video Tape: This may involve peer use of training tapes, as well as the use of taped (audio or video) sessions, for the purpose of review and evaluation of actual sessions. In using tapes for the latter purposes of evaluating counselor skills, counselor feedback should be involved. A sample consent form is included in this manual (see below) in order to ensure that clients understand and agree to being taped for supervision purposes.

Behavior Rehearsal: This mode of supervision is similar to role playing, yet behavior rehearsal will usually focus on more specific behaviors and skills. Behavior rehearsals offer “before the fact”.

Consultation: This process of supervision is counselor-initiated. Unlike face-to-face supervision, this method is normally more spontaneous. It involves the review of generic skills.

Demonstration: In this process, the supervisor acts as the demonstrator. This process also involves the feedback process. It is the responsibility of the supervisor to involve and solicit counselor feedback to assure that the demonstration has been understood. This is different from Behavior/Rehearsal where the counselor is the demonstrator.

Direct Observation: Entails first-hand observation of on-the-job performance.

Evaluative: This review of counselor performance is an ongoing process. This process is supervisor-initiated and involves the day-to-day performance review. For example, this process includes the review of charts, notes, etc.

Explanation/Directive: This entails one-way communication from the supervisor to the supervisee. Essentially, the supervisor is dictating counselor actions and behavior.

One-Way Screen: A form of direct observation which removes the actual presence of the supervisor from the situation, i.e., view from one-way mirror.

Outside Consultation: Using this method of supervision delivery, an expert is brought in the program for the purposes of review, evaluation of training.

Role playing: In this method of supervision, the emphasis is on the evaluation of generic counseling skills. This process normally involves the creation of contrived situations, or may involve the re-creation of counselor/client situation “after the fact.”

Sanctions: The imposition of constructive discipline.

Verbatim Record and Written Report: This involves the review, by the supervisor, or the client records, progress notes, verbatim transcriptions of counselor/client interviews, etc.

Work Review: This process involves the review of counselor case loads.

GROUP SUPERVISION

When using assigned reading, audio tape, verbatim record and video tape methods of supervision in group situations, the definitions would be altered slightly to reflect the change in counselor and supervisor numbers. These methods, when used in group situations, are usually training devices.

Case Conference/Treatment Review: This form of supervision entails the presentation by a counselor, of a case. This does not imply the one way communication of reporting a case, but involves review and feedback.

Group: Supervision by more than one (1) supervisor.

Peer Consultation: This includes the exchange of ideas in both formal and informal situations. This may include meetings of professional associations, groups and guilds. This process must involve evaluation and feedback or the process becomes an educational function, not a supervisory function.

Support Group: This pertains to a group of staff sessions aimed at dealing with interpersonal and intrapersonal problems, i.e., working to prevent staff burn-out.

Team Development (treatment enhancement): The evaluation of how counselors act as a team in the delivery of service: an evaluation of group cohesiveness and team effectiveness. The enhancement of treatment is the consequence of the supervisory process.

What is Considered Adequate Supervision?

Minimally adequate supervision involves face-to-face interpersonal relationship between the supervisor and the supervisee. Therefore, mere written evaluation forms and written reports would constitute as inadequate supervision.

Minimally adequate supervision, at its best, involves the use of methods from both individual and group supervision. Any one method, in and of itself, would constitute inadequate supervision. While it is preferred and recommended that no more than two-thirds of a counselor's supervision should involve group supervision; it is preferred and recommended that the focus of a counselor's supervision be on individual counselor's methods, and it is recognized that supervision should be modeled to meet the unique needs of the individual counselor.

Please note: For the purpose of certification, supervised training must be attained in a work setting in the addictions counseling field; classroom experience is not acceptable.

2) Twelve Core Functions

The Twelve Core Functions of an alcohol/drug abuse counselor are used as standards for counselor competency.

I. Screening: The process by which the client is determined appropriate and eligible for admission to a particular program.

Global Criteria

- 1) Evaluate psychological, social, and physiological signs and symptoms of alcohol/drug use and abuse.
- 2) Determine the client's appropriateness for admission or referral.
- 3) Determine the client's eligibility for admission or referral.
- 4) Identify any coexisting conditions (medical, psychiatric, physical, etc.) that indicate need for additional professional assessment and/or services.
- 5) Adhere to applicable laws, regulations and agency policies governing alcohol and drug abuse services.

EXPLANATION

This function requires that the counselor consider a variety of factors before deciding whether or not to admit the potential client for treatment.

It is imperative that the counselor uses appropriate diagnostic criteria to determine whether the applicant's alcohol and drug use constitutes abuse. All counselors must be able to describe the criteria they use and demonstrate their competence by presenting specific examples of how the use of alcohol and drugs has become dysfunctional for a particular client.

The determination of a particular client's appropriateness for a program requires the counselor's judgment and skill and is influenced by the program's environment and modality (i.e., inpatient, outpatient, residential, pharmacotherapy, detoxification, or daycare). Important factors include the nature of the substance abuse, the physical condition of the client, the psychological functioning of the client, outside supports/resources, previous treatment efforts, motivation, and philosophy of the program.

The eligibility criteria are generally determined by the focus, target population and funding requirements of the counselor's program or agency. Many of the criteria are easily ascertained. These may include the client's age, gender, place of residence, legal status, veteran status, income level and the referral source. Allusion to following agency policy is a minimally acceptable statement.

If the applicant is found ineligible or inappropriate for this program, the counselor should be able to suggest an alternative.

II. Intake: The administrative and initial assessment procedures for admission to the program.

Global Criteria

- 1) Complete required documents for admission to the program.
- 2) Complete required documents for program eligibility and appropriateness.
- 3) Obtain appropriately signed consent when soliciting from or providing information to outside sources to protect client confidentiality and rights.

EXPLANATION

The intake usually becomes an extension of the screening when the decision to admit is formally made and documented. Much of the intake process includes the completion of various forms. Typically, the client and counselor fill out an admission or intake sheet, document the initial assessment, complete appropriate release of information, collect financial data, sign consent for treatment, and assign the primary counselor.

III. Orientation: Describing to the client the following: general nature and goals of the program; rules governing client conduct and infractions that can lead to disciplinary action or discharge from the program; in a non-residential program, the hours during which services are available; treatment cost to be borne by the client, if any; and client rights.

Global Criteria

- 1) Provide an overview to the client by describing program goals and objectives for client care.
- 2) Provide an overview to the client by describing program rules, and client obligations and rights.
- 3) Provide an overview to the client of program operations.

EXPLANATION

Orientation may be provided before, during and/or after the client's screening and intake. It can be conducted in an individual, group, or family context. Portions of the orientation may include other personnel for certain specific aspects of the treatment, such as medication.

IV. Assessment: The procedures by which a counselor/program identifies and evaluates an individual's strengths, weaknesses, problems and needs for the development of a treatment plan.

Global Criteria

- 1) Gather relevant history from client including but not limited to alcohol and drug abuse, using appropriate interview techniques.
- 2) Identify methods and procedures for obtaining corroborative information from significant secondary sources regarding client's alcohol and drug abuse and psycho-social history.
- 3) Identify appropriate assessment tools.
- 4) Explain to the client the rationale for the use of assessment techniques in order to facilitate understanding.
- 5) Develop a diagnostic evaluation of the client's substance abuse and any coexisting conditions based on the results of all assessments in order to provide an integrated approach to treatment. Planning must be based on the client's strengths, weaknesses, and identified problems and needs.

EXPLANATION

Although assessment is a continuing process, it is generally emphasized early in treatment. It usually results from a combination of focused interviews, testing and/or record reviews.

The counselor evaluates major life areas (i.e. physical health, vocation development, social adaptation, legal involvement and psychological functioning) and assesses the extent to which alcohol and drug use has interfered with the client's functioning in each of these areas. The result of this assessment should suggest the focus of treatment.

V. Treatment Planning: Process by which the counselor and the client identify and rank problems needing resolution; establish agreed upon immediate and long-term goals; and decide upon a treatment process and the resources to be utilized.

Global Criteria

- 1) Explain assessment results to client in an understandable manner.
- 2) Identify and rank problems based on individual client needs in the written treatment plan

- 3) Formulate agreed upon immediate and long-term goals using behavioral terms in the written treatment plan.
- 4) Identify the treatment methods and resources to be utilized as appropriate for the individual client.

EXPLANATION

The treatment contract is based on the assessment and is a product of negotiation between the client and the counselor to assure that the plan is tailored to the individual's needs. The language of the problem, goal, and strategy statements should be specific, intelligible to the client and expressed in behavioral terms. The statement of the problem must concisely elaborate on the client's needs previously identified. The goal statements refer specifically to the identified problem and may include a set of objectives ultimately intended to resolve or mitigate the problem. The goals must be expressed in behavioral terms in order for the counselor and client to determine progress in treatment. (Both immediate and long-term goals should be established.) The plan or strategy is a specific activity that links the problem with the goal. It describes the services, who will perform them, when they will be provided, and at what frequency. Treatment planning is a dynamic process and the contracts must be regularly reviewed and modified as appropriate.

VI. Counseling (individual, group, and significant others): The utilization of special skills to assist individuals, families or groups in achieving objectives through exploration of a problem and its ramifications; examination of attitudes and feelings; consideration of alternative solutions; and decision-making.

Global Criteria

- 1) Select the counseling theory or theories which apply.
- 2) Apply technique(s) to assist the client, group, and/or family in exploring problems and ramifications.
- 3) Apply technique(s) to assist the client, group, and/or family in examining the client's behavior, attitudes, and/or feelings if appropriate in the treatment setting.
- 4) Individualize counseling in accordance with cultural, gender, and lifestyle differences.
- 5) Interact with the client in an appropriate therapeutic manner.
- 6) Elicit solutions and decisions from the client.
- 7) Implement the treatment plan.

EXPLANATION

Counseling is a relationship in which the counselor helps the client mobilize resources to resolve his or her problem and/or modify attitudes and values. The counselor must be able to demonstrate a working knowledge of various counseling approaches. These methods may include: Reality Therapy, Transactional Analysis, Strategic Family Therapy, Client Centered Therapy, etc.

Furthermore, the counselor must be able to explain the rationale for using a specific approach for the particular client. For example, a behavioral approach might be suggested for clients who are resistant and manipulative or have difficulty anticipating consequences and regulating impulses. On the other hand, a cognitive approach may be appropriate for a client who is depressed, yet insightful and articulate.

Also, the counselor should explain his or her rationale for choosing a counseling approach in an individual, group, or significant other context. Finally, the counselor should be able to explain why a counseling approach or context changed during treatment.

VII. Case Management: Activities which bring services, agencies, resource, or people together within a planned framework of action toward the achievement of established goals. It may involve liaison activities and collateral contacts.

Global Criteria

- 1) Coordinate services for client care.
- 2) Explain the rationale of case management activities to the client.

EXPLANATION

Case management is the coordination of a multiple service plan. Case management decisions must be explained to the client. By the time many alcohol and drug abusers enter treatment they tend to manifest dysfunction in a variety of areas. For example, a heroin addict may have hepatitis, lack job skills and have a pending criminal charge. In this case, the counselor might monitor his medical treatment, make a referral to a vocational rehabilitation program and communicate with representatives of the criminal justice system.

The client may also be receiving other treatment services such as family therapy and pharmacotherapy, within the same agency. These activities must be integrated into the treatment plan and communication must be maintained with the appropriate personnel.

VIII. Crisis Intervention: Those services which respond to an alcohol and/or other drug abuser's needs during acute emotional and/or physical distress.

Global Criteria

- 1) Recognize the elements of the client crisis.
- 2) Implement an immediate course of action appropriate to the crisis.
- 3) Enhance overall treatment by utilizing crisis events.

EXPLANATION

A crisis is a decisive, crucial event in the course of treatment that threatens to compromise or destroy the rehabilitation effort. These crises may be directly related to alcohol or drug use (i.e., overdose or relapse) or indirectly related. That latter might include the death of a significant other, separation/divorce, arrest, suicide gestures, and a psychotic episode or outside pressure to terminate treatment. If no specific crisis is presented in the Written Case, rely on and describe a past experience with a client. Describe the overall picture-before, during, and after the crisis.

It is imperative that the counselor be able to identify the crises when they surface, attempt to mitigate or resolve the immediate problem and use negative events to enhance the treatment efforts, if possible.

IX. Client Education: Provision of information to individuals and groups concerning alcohol and drug abuse and the available services and resources.

Global Criteria

- 1) Present relevant alcohol and drug use/abuse information to the client through formal and/or informal processes.
- 2) Present information about available alcohol and drug services and resources.

EXPLANATION

Client education is provided in a variety of ways. In certain inpatient and residential programs, for example, a sequence of formal classes may be conducted using a didactic format with reading materials and films. On the other hand, an outpatient counselor may provide relevant information to the client individually or informally. In addition to alcohol and drug information, client education may include a description of self-help groups and other resources that are available to the clients and their families. The applicant must be competent in providing specific examples of the type of education provided to the client and the relevance to the case.

X. Referral: Identifying the needs of a client that cannot be met by the counselor or agency and assisting the client to utilize the support systems and community resources available.

Global Criteria

- 1) Identify need(s) and/or problem(s) that the agency and/or counselor cannot meet.
- 2) Explain the rationale for the referral to the client.
- 3) Match client needs and/or problems to appropriate resources.
- 4) Adhere to applicable laws, regulations and agency policies governing procedures related to the protection of the client's confidentiality.
- 5) Assist the client in utilizing the support systems and community resources available.

EXPLANATION

In order to be competent in this function, the counselor must be familiar with community resources, both alcohol and drug, as well as others, and should be aware of the limitations of each service and the limitations might adversely impact the client. In addition, the counselor must be able to demonstrate a working knowledge of the referral process, including confidentiality requirements and outcomes of the referral.

Referral is obviously closely related to case management when integrated into the initial and on-going treatment plan. It also includes, however, aftercare or discharge planning referrals that take into account the continuum of care.

XI. Report and Record Keeping: Charting the results of the assessment and treatment plan, writing reports, progress notes, discharge summaries and other client-related data.

Global Criteria

- 1) Prepare reports and relevant records integrated available information to facilitate the continuum of care.
- 2) Chart pertinent ongoing information pertaining to the client.
- 3) Utilize relevant information from written documents for client care.

EXPLANATION

The report and record keeping function is important. It benefits the counselor by documenting the client's progress in achieving his or her goals. It facilitates adequate communication between co-workers. It assists the counselor's supervisor in providing timely feedback. It is valuable to other programs that may provide services to the client at a later date. It can enhance the accountability of the program to its licensing/funding sources. Ultimately, if performed properly, it enhances the client's entire treatment experience. The applicant must prove personal action in regard to the report and record keeping function.

XII. Consultation with Other Professionals in Regard to Client Treatment/Services: Relating with in-house staff or outside professionals to assure comprehensive, quality care for the client.

Global Criteria

- 1) Recognize issues that are beyond the counselor's base of knowledge and/or skill.
- 2) Consult with appropriate resources to ensure the provision of effective treatment services.
- 3) Adhere to applicable laws, regulations and agency policies governing the disclosure of client-identifying data.
- 4) Explain the rationale for the consultation to the client, if appropriate.

EXPLANATION

Consultations are meetings for discussion, decision-making and planning. The most common consultation is the regular in-house staffing in which client cases are reviewed with other members of the treatment team. Consultations may also be conducted in individual sessions with the supervisor, other counselors, psychologists, physicians, probation officers, and other service providers connected to the client's case.

A certified professional or person seeking certification should not use a modality or a technique if the certified professional or person seeking certification does not have the education, training, or skills to perform a modality or a technique in a competent or qualified manner.

Rule 2.3 Discussion

Most certified professionals or those seeking certification strive to achieve and maintain the highest level of professional competence. In order to provide the highest standard of therapy for consumers, certified professionals or those seeking certification must maintain the commitment to assess their own personal strengths, limitations, biases, and effectiveness. When a certified professional or person seeking certification recognizes that a consumer's therapeutic needs exceed their education, training, and capabilities, the certified professional or person seeking certification must pursue advice and counsel from colleagues and supervisors. When a consumer's therapeutic issues are outside their level of professional functioning or scope of practice, the certified professional or person seeking certification must refer the consumer to another professional who will provide the appropriate therapeutic approach for the consumer.

Rule 2.7 Discussion

Private conduct of a certified professional or person seeking certification remains a personal matter to the same degree as any other person. However, when conduct compromises the fulfillment of professional responsibilities, the certified professional or person seeking certification bears the responsibility for any misconduct in all areas of their professional life. When the personal life, of a certified professional or person seeking certification, begins to adversely affect professional performance and the quality of service delivered, putting the consumer at risk. The certified professional or person seeking certification must take sufficient and immediate action to resolve any personal adversity. Which interferes with their professional functioning. This may include but is not limited to seeking professional assistance or requesting inactive status for medical reasons.

The certified professional or person seeking certification should expect his or her employer to intervene when the professional's personal problems begin to adversely affect their professional performance with consumers and coworkers.

Rule 2.8 Discussion

The certified professional or person seeking certification shall not discontinue professional services to a consumer unless: services have been completed; the consumer requests the discontinuation; alternative or replacement services are arranged; or the consumer is given reasonable opportunity to arrange alternative or replacement services.

Rule 2.9 Discussion

Except as may otherwise be indicated in this Code, certified professionals or those seeking certification are expected to preserve all consumer confidences and refrain from revealing confidential information obtained as a result of the certified professional-consumer or person seeking certification-consumer relationship, except as may be authorized by the consumer or required or authorized by law. Certified professionals or those seeking certification are expected to be familiar with and act in accordance with federal and state regulations concerning confidentiality of participant records and identifying information.

Rule 3.3 Discussion

Any public record pertaining to an arrest, charge, disposition or sentencing of a certified professional or person seeking certification, shall be deemed as conclusive evidence of guilt of the felony or misdemeanor for which he or she has been convicted. If that felony or misdemeanor relates to the individual's ability to practice the substance abuse counseling profession, the fact of conviction shall also be proof of violation of this Rule. Some specific examples within this section include but are not limited to crimes involving violence, use or sale of drugs, fraud, theft, sexual misconduct, or other felonies. All proceedings in which the sentence has been deferred, suspended, adjudication withheld, or a conviction expunged shall be deemed a conviction within the meaning of this section. For example, an IBOL investigation of a certified professional or person seeking certification could provide the independent grounds for an investigation.

Rule 4.1 Discussion

The Board finds that the effects of the certified professional-consumer or person seeking certification-consumer relationship can be powerful and subtle and that consumers can be influenced consciously and subconsciously by the unequal distribution of power inherent in such relationships. Furthermore, the Board finds that the effects of the establishment of a professional-consumer relationship can endure after services cease to be rendered. The certified professional or person seeking certification is responsible for acting in the best interest of the consumer even after the termination of services. The professional shall not engage in or request sexual contact with a former consumer at any time if engaging with that consumer would be exploitative, abusive or detrimental to that consumer's welfare. A certified professional-consumer or person seeking certification-consumer relationship is established between a professional and a person once a professional renders, or purports to render addictions, prevention, or criminal justice services including but not limited to, counseling, assessment, or treatment to that person. A formal contractual relationship, the scheduling of professional appointments or payment of a fee for services are not necessary conditions for the establishment of a professional-consumer relationship, although each of these may be evidence that such a relationship exists.

Rule 5.1 Discussion

The term "fraudulent claim" includes but is not limited to charging a consumer or a third-party payer for a service not performed or submitting an account or charge for services that is false or misleading. It does not include charging for a missed appointment.

Rule 6.1 & 6.2 Discussion

Certified professionals or those seeking certification must remain "honest and self-searching in determining the impact of their behavior on the consumer. Ethical problems are often raised when a certified professional or person seeking certification blends his or her professional relationship with a consumer with another kind of relationship. Behavior is unethical when it reflects a lack of awareness or concern about the impact of the behavior on the consumers. Certified professionals or those seeking certification who engage in more than one role with consumers may be trying to meet their own financial, social, or emotional needs." (1993, Corey G., Corey M., and Callanan P.)

The nature of the consumer-professional relationship is such that the consumer remains vulnerable to the real or perceived influences of the certified professional or person seeking certification. Certified professionals or those seeking certification, who are in a position to influence a consumer's behavior, may impose their own desires upon the consumer.

Rule 6.6 Discussion

When a certified professional or person seeking certification "plays" or "preys" upon the consumer's gratitude for counseling services; or covertly or overtly implies or states that the consumer remains indebted to the certified professional or person seeking certification and should "repay" him or her through gifts or other favors, their unique position of trust and responsibility with the consumer not only becomes jeopardized, but the certified professional or person seeking certification has also engaged in actions antithetical to the counseling profession.

Rule 6.7 Discussion

Notwithstanding this provision, a certified professional or person seeking certification may pay an independent advertising or marketing agent compensation for advertising or marketing services rendered on their behalf by such agent, including compensation for referrals of consumers identified through such services on a per consumer basis.

Rule 7.1 Discussion

If during the course of treating a participant, a certified professional or person seeking certification becomes aware that a consumer intends or is likely to commit some act which may result in serious bodily harm to another person or persons and there is a clear and imminent danger of such harm occurring, the certified professional or person seeking certification has a duty to take reasonable steps to warn such persons. In doing so, the certified professional or person seeking certification should be aware that state and federal regulations set forth rules concerning the confidentiality of certified professional-consumer or person seeking certification-consumer communications and consumer records and identifying information. In cases where the threat is of the commission of a crime on agency premises or against agency personnel, the rules may allow disclosure of the circumstances of the threatened crime and identity of the consumer directly to law enforcement officers. In some instances, however, in order to warn the likely victims of the consumer's actions it may be necessary for the certified professional or person seeking certification or their agency to make an emergency application to a court for an order permitting disclosure of information concerning the consumer or communications from the consumer before such information can be disclosed.

Rule 7.2 Discussion

If during the course of treating a participant, a certified professional or person seeking certification becomes aware that a consumer intends or is likely to inflict serious bodily harm to himself or herself and that there is a clear and imminent danger of such harm occurring, the certified professional or person seeking certification has a duty to take reasonable steps to protect the consumer. In doing so, the certified professional or person seeking certification should be aware that state and federal regulations set forth rules concerning the confidentiality of certified professional-consumer or person seeking certification consumer communications and consumer records and identifying information.

Under those rules, it may be permissible in some cases to communicate information about an individual if done in a manner that does not disclose the individual's status as a participant in alcohol or drug abuse counseling. In other cases, however, in order to protect the consumer, it may be necessary for the certified professional or person seeking certification or their agency to make an emergency application to a court for an order permitting disclosure of information concerning the consumer or communications from the consumer before such information can be disclosed.

Rule 11.5 Discussion

The primary commitment of the certified professional or person seeking certification is to the health, welfare, and safety of a consumer. As an advocate for the consumer, the certified professional or person seeking certification must take appropriate action to report instances of incompetent, unethical, or illegal practice by other certified professionals or those seeking certification that places the rights or best interests of the consumer in jeopardy.
