INTRODUCTION TO IBADCC ETHICAL STANDARDS

I-1	IBADCC recognizes that their members, certified counselors, and other service providers live and work in many diverse communities. IBADCC shall have the responsibility to ensure that the Code of Ethics shall be relevant to ethical deliberation and guidance. The term “addiction professionals” and “providers” shall include and refer to IBADCC members, certified or licensed counselors offering addiction specific services and other service providers along the continuum of care from prevention through recovery. “Client” shall include and refer to individuals, couples, partners, families, or groups, depending on the setting.
I-2	This Code of Ethics was written to reflect the ideals and govern the conduct of IBADCC and its members and shall be the accepted standard of conduct for IBADCC members. The IBADCC Code of Ethics shall be a statement of the values of the addiction profession and the guide for making ethical clinical decisions. When an Ethics Complaint is filed with IBADCC the complaint shall be evaluated by consulting the IBADCC Code of Ethics.
I-3	In addition to identifying specific ethical standards, IBADCC shall recommend consideration of the following when making ethical decisions: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Autonomy: To allow each person the freedom to choose their own destiny.</li> <li>2. Obedience: The responsibility to observe and obey legal and ethical directives.</li> <li>3. Conscientious Refusal: The responsibility to refuse to carry out directives that are illegal and/or unethical.</li> <li>4. Beneficence: To help others.</li> <li>5. Gratitude: To pass along the good that we receive to others.</li> <li>6. Competence: To possess the necessary skills and knowledge to treat the clientele in a chosen discipline and to remain current with treatment modalities, theories, and techniques.</li> <li>7. Justice: Fair and equal treatment; to treat others in a fair and just manner.</li> <li>8. Stewardship: To use available resources in a judicious and conscientious manner; to give back.</li> <li>9. Honesty and Candor: To tell the truth in all dealing with clients, colleagues, business associates and the community.</li> </ol>

PRINCIPLE I: THE COUNSELING RELATIONSHIP

I-1 Client Welfare	Addiction Professionals shall accept their responsibility to ensure the safety and welfare of their client, and shall act for the good of each client while exercising respect, sensitivity, and compassion. Providers shall treat each client with dignity, honor and respect and act in the best interest of each client.
I-2 Informed Consent	Addiction professionals shall ensure that each client shall be fully informed about treatment, and shall provide clients with information about treatment that is in clear and understanding language regarding the purposes, risks, limitations, and cost of treatment services, reasonable alternatives, their right to refuse services, and their right to withdrawal consent within time frames established within the consent. Providers shall review with their client, both verbally and in writing, the rights and responsibility of both the provider and the client. Providers shall have the client attest to their understanding of the information presented in the informed consent by signing the Informed Consent Document.
I-3 Mandatory Disclosure	Mandatory Disclosure shall include: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>a. Explicit explanation as to the nature of all services to be provided and methodologies and theories typically utilized.</li> <li>b. Purposes, goals, techniques, procedures, limitations, potential risks, and benefits of services.</li> <li>c. The Addiction Professionals education, credential, relevant experience, and approach to counseling.</li> <li>d. Confidentiality and explanation of its limits, including duty to warn.</li> <li>e. The role of technology, including boundaries with electronic transmissions and social networking.</li> <li>f. Implications of diagnosis and the intended use of tests and reports.</li> <li>g. Fees and billing, nonpayment, and policies for collecting nonpayment.</li> <li>h. Specifics about Clinical Supervision and Consultation.</li> <li>i. The client’s right to refuse services.</li> <li>j. The client’s right to refuse to be treated by a person-in-training, without fear of retribution.</li> </ol>
I-4 Limits of Confidentiality	Addiction Professionals will clarify the nature of their relationship with each party, and the limits of confidentiality, at the outset of services when agreeing to provide services to a person, at the request or direction of a third party.
I-5 Diversity	Addiction Professionals shall respect the diversity of clients and provide culturally-responsive and culturally-sensitive services to all clients.
I-6 Discrimination	Addiction Professionals shall not practice, condone, facilitate, or collaborate with any form or discrimination against any client on the basis of race, ethnicity, color, religious or spiritual beliefs, age, gender identification, national origin, sexual orientation or expression, marital status, political affiliation, physical or mental handicap, health condition, housing status, military status, or economic status.
I-7 Legal Competency	Addiction Counselors who act on the behalf of a client who has been judged legally incompetent or with a representative who has been legally authorized to act on behalf of a client, shall act with the client’s best interest in mind, and shall inform the designated guardian or representative of any circumstances which may influence the relationship. Providers shall balance the ethical rights of clients to make choices about their treatment, with their capacity to give consent to receive treatment related services and the parental/familial/representative’s legal rights and responsibilities to protect the client and make decisions on their behalf.
I-8 Mandated Clients	Addiction Professionals who work with clients who have been mandated to counseling and related services, shall discuss legal and ethical limitations of confidentiality. Providers shall explain confidentiality, limits to confidentiality, and the sharing of information for supervision and consultation purposes prior to the beginning of the therapeutic or service relationship. If

	the client refuses services, the provider shall discuss with the client the potential consequences of refusing mandated services, while respecting client autonomy.
I-9 Multiple Therapists	Addiction Professionals shall obtain a Release of Information (ROI) from the client if the client is working with another substance use or mental health professional. The ROI shall allow the provider to establish a collaborative professional relationship.
I-10 Boundaries	Addiction Professionals shall consider the inherent risks and benefits associated with moving the boundaries of a counseling relationship beyond the standard parameters. Providers shall obtain consultation and supervision, and recommendations shall be documented.
I-11 Multiple/Dual Relationships	Addiction Professionals shall make every effort to avoid multiple relationships with a client. When a dual relationship is unavoidable, the professional shall take extra care to ensure that professional judgement is not impaired and there is no risk of client exploitation. Such relationships shall include, but are not related to, members of the provider’s immediate or extended family, business associates of the professional, or individuals who have a close personal relationship with the professional or the professional’s family. When extending these boundaries, providers shall take appropriate professional precautions such as informed consent, consultation, supervision, and documentation to ensure that their judgement is impaired and no harm occurs. Consultation and supervision shall be obtained, and the recommendations shall be documented.
I-12 Prior Relationships	Addiction Professionals shall recognize that there are inherent risks and benefits to accepting as a client someone with whom the provider had a casual, distant, or past relationship. Prior to engaging in a counseling relationship with a person from a previous relationship, the provider shall obtain consultation and supervision, and shall document the recommendations. The burden shall be upon the provider to ensure that their judgement is not impaired, and that exploitation is not occurring.
I-13 Previous Client	Addiction Professionals who are considering initiating any type of professional relationship with a previous client shall seek documented consultation or supervision prior to its initiation.
I-14 Group	Addiction Professionals shall clarify who “the client” is, when accepting and working with more than one person as “the client”. Providers shall clarify the relationship they will have with each person. In group counseling, the provider shall take reasonable precautions to protect group members from harm.
I-15 Financial Disclosure	Addiction Professionals shall truthfully represent facts to all clients and third-party payers, regarding services rendered and the costs of those services.
I-16 Communication	Addiction Professionals shall communicate information in ways that are developmentally and culturally appropriate. Providers shall offer clear and understandable language when discussing issues related to informed consent. Cultural implications of informed consent shall be considered and documented by the provider.
I-17 Treatment Planning	Addiction Professionals shall create treatment plans in collaboration with their client. Treatment plans shall be reviewed and revised on an ongoing and intentional basis to ensure their viability and validity.
I-18 Level of Care	Addiction Professionals shall provide their client with the highest quality of care. Providers shall use ASAM or other relevant placement criteria, to ensure the clients are appropriately and effectively served.
I-19 Documentation	Addiction Professionals and other service providers shall create, maintain, protect, and store required documentation per federal, state, and tribal laws, rules, and organizational policies.
I-20 Advocacy	Addiction Professionals shall advocate on behalf of the clients at individual, group, institutional, and societal levels. Providers shall speak out regarding barriers and obstacles that impede access to and/or growth and development of clients. When advocating for a specific client, providers shall obtain written consent prior to engaging in advocacy efforts.
I-21 Referral	Addiction Professionals shall recognize that each client is entitled to the full extent of physical, social, psychological, spiritual, and emotional care required to meet their needs. Providers shall refer to culturally and linguistically appropriate resources when a client presents with any impairment that is beyond the scope of the providers education, training skills, expertise, and licensure and/or certification.

I-22 Exploitation	Addiction Professionals shall be aware of their influential positions with respect to clients, trainees, or research participants. Providers shall not engage in any activity that violates or diminishes the civil or legal rights of any client. Providers shall not use coercive treatment methods with any client, including threats, negative labels, or attempts to provoke shame or humiliation. Providers shall not impose their personal, religious, or political views on any client. Providers shall not endorse conversion therapy.
I-23 Sexual Relationships	Addiction Professionals shall not engage in any form of sexual or romantic relationship with any current or former client, nor shall they accept as a client anyone with whom they have engaged in a romantic, sexual, social or familial relationship. This prohibition shall include in-person and electronic interactions and/or relationships. Addiction Professionals shall be prohibited from engaging in counseling relationships with friends or family members.
I-24 Termination	Addiction Professionals shall terminate services with the client when services are no longer required, no longer serve the client’s needs, or the provider is unable to remain objective. Counselors shall provide pre-termination counseling and shall offer appropriate referrals as needed. Providers may refer a client, after obtaining and documenting supervision or consultation, when the provider is in danger of harm from the client or by another person whom the client has a relationship.
I-25 Coverage	Addiction Professionals shall make necessary coverage arrangements to accommodate interruption of services such as vacation, illnesses, or any unexpected situation.
I-26 Abandonment	Addiction Professionals shall not abandon any client in treatment. Providers who anticipate termination or interruption of services to clients shall notify each client promptly, and shall seek transfer, referral, or continuation of services in accordance with each client’s needs and preferences.
I-27 Fees	Addiction Professional shall ensure that all fees charged for services are fair, reasonable, and commensurate with the services provided and with due regard for client’s ability to pay.
I-28 Self-Referrals	Addiction Professionals shall not refer clients to their private practice unless policies at the organization that is the source of the referral allow for self-referrals. When self-referrals are not permitted, clients shall be informed of other appropriate referral sources.
I-29 Commissions	Addiction Professionals shall not offer or accept any commissions, rebates, kickbacks, bonuses, or any form of remuneration for referral of a client for professional services, nor engage in fee splitting.
I-30 Enterprises	Addiction Professionals shall not use relationships with clients for personal gain or profit.
I-31 Withholding Records	Addiction Professionals shall not withhold records they possess that are needed for a client’s treatment solely because payment has not been received for past services.
I-32 Withholding Reports	Addiction Professionals shall not withhold reports to referral agencies regarding client’s treatment progress or completion solely because payment has not been received in full for services, particularly when those reports are to courts or probation officers who require such information for legal purposes. Reports shall only note that payments have not yet been made, or partially made, for services rendered.
I-33 Disclosures re: payments	Addiction Professionals shall clearly disclose and explain to each client, prior to the onset of services: (1) costs and fees related to the provisions of services, including any charges for cancelled or missed appointments, (2) the use of collection agencies or legal measures for nonpayment, and (3) the procedures for obtaining payment from the client if payment is denied by a third-party payer.
I-34 Regardless of Compensation	Addiction Professionals shall provide the same level of professional skill and service to each client without regard to the type or amount of compensation provided by a client or a third-party payer.

I-35 Billing for Actual Services	Addiction Professionals shall charge only for services actually provided for the client, regardless of any oral or written contract the client has made with the addiction professional or agency.
I-36 Financial Records	Addiction Professionals shall maintain accurate and timely clinical and financial records for each client.
I-37 Suspension	Addiction Professionals shall give reasonable and written notice to clients of impending suspension of services for nonpayment.
I-38 Unpaid Balances	Addiction Professionals shall give timely written notice to clients with unpaid balances of their intent to seek collection by an agency or other legal recourse. When such action is taken, addiction professionals shall not reveal clinical information.
I-39 Bartering	Addiction Professionals shall only engage in bartering for professional services when: (1) the client requests it, (2) the relationship is not exploitative, (3) the professional relationship is not distorted, (4) federal and state laws and rules allow for bartering, and (5) a clear written contract is established with agreement of the value of the item(s) bartered for and number of corresponding sessions, prior to the onset of services. Providers shall consider the cultural implications of bartering and discuss relevant concerns with clients. Agreements shall be specified in a written contract. Providers shall obtain supervision or consultation, and shall document the recommendations.
I-40 Gifts	Addiction Professionals shall recognize that clients may wish to show appreciation for services by offering gifts. Providers shall take into account the therapeutic relationship, the monetary value of the gift, the client's motivation for giving the gift, and the counselor's motivation for wanting to accept or decline the gift. Providers shall obtain supervision or consultation prior to deciding whether or not to accept the gift, and shall document the recommendations.
I-41 Uninvited Solicitation	Addiction professionals shall not engage in uninvited solicitation of potential clients who are vulnerable to undue influence, manipulation, or coercion.
I-42 Virtual	Addiction Professionals shall be prohibited from engaging in a personal or romantic virtual e-relationships with all current or former clients.

PRINCIPLE II: CONFIDENTIALITY AND PRIVILEGED COMMUNICATION

II-1 Confidentiality	Addiction Professionals shall understand that confidentiality and anonymity are foundational to addiction treatment and shall accept the duty to protect the identity and privacy of each client as a primary obligation. Providers shall communicate the parameters of confidentiality in a culturally-sensitive manner.
II-2 Documentation	Addiction Professionals shall create and maintain appropriate documentation. Providers shall ensure that records and documentation created in any medium, which shall include, but shall not be limited to cloud, laptop, flash drive, external hard drive, tablet, computer, and paper shall be securely maintained in compliance with HIPPA and CFR-42 part 2, and that only authorized persons shall have access to documents. Providers shall disclose to clients within informed consent how records shall be stored, maintained, and disposed per federal and state laws and regulations.
II-3 Access	Addiction Professionals shall notify the client, during informed consent, about procedures specific to client access to records. Addiction Professionals shall provide the client reasonable access to documentation regarding the client upon his/her written request. Providers shall protect the confidentiality of any other person contained in the records. Providers shall limit client access to their records, and provide a summary of the records when there is evidence that full access could cause harm to the client. A treatment summary shall include, and shall be limited to the dates of service, diagnosis, treatment plan, and progress in treatment. Providers shall seek supervisor or consultation prior to providing the client with documentation and shall document their rationale for releasing of limiting access to records. Providers shall provide assistance and consultation to the client regarding interpretation to counseling records.

II-4 Sharing	Addiction Professionals shall engage in ongoing discussions with the client regarding how, when, and with whom information is to be shared.
II-5 Disclosure	Addiction Professionals shall not disclose confidential information regarding the identity of a client, nor information that could potentially reveal the identity of a client, without written consent by the client. In situations where the disclosure is mandated or permitted by state and federal law, verbal authorization shall not be sufficient, except in emergencies.
II-6 Privacy	Addiction Professionals and the organizations they work for shall ensure that confidentiality and the privacy of clients shall be protected by providers, employees, supervisees, students, office personnel, and other staff and volunteers.
II-7 Limits of Confidentiality	Addiction Professionals, during informed consent, shall disclose the legal and ethical limits of confidentiality and shall disclose the legal exceptions to confidentiality. Confidentiality and limits to confidentiality shall be reviewed as needed during the counseling relationship. Providers shall review with each client all the circumstances where confidential information may be requested, and where disclosure of confidential information may be legally required.
II-8 Imminent Danger	Addiction Professionals shall only reveal client identity or confidential information without client consent when a client presents a clear and imminent danger to themselves or to another person, and only to emergency personnel who are directly involved in reducing the danger or threat. Counselor shall obtain consultation or supervision when unsure about the validity of an exception, and shall document the recommendations.
II-9 Courts	Addiction Professionals who are ordered to release confidential and/or privileged information by a court shall obtain written informed consent from the client, shall take steps to prohibit the disclosure, or shall have the disclosure limited as narrowly as possible because of potential harm to the client or counseling relationship.
II-10 Essential Only	Addiction Professionals shall release only essential information when circumstances require the disclosure of confidential information.
II-11 Multidisciplinary Care	Addiction Professionals shall inform the client when the provider is a participant in a multidisciplinary care team providing coordinated services to the client. The client shall have the right to ask who the members of the team are and what information is being shared.
II-12 Locations	Addiction Professionals shall discuss confidential client information only in locations where they are reasonably certain they can protect the client's privacy.
II-13 Payers	Addiction Professionals shall obtain client authorization prior to disclosing any information to third party payors (i.e. Medicaid, Medicare, insurance payers, private payers).
II-14 Encryption	Addiction Professionals shall use encryption and other necessary precautions to ensure the information being transmitted electronically or in other mediums remains confidential.
II-15 Deceased	Addiction Professionals shall protect the confidentiality of deceased clients by upholding legal mandates and documented preferences of the client.
II-16 All Parties	Addiction Professionals, who provide group, family, or couples therapy, shall describe the roles and responsibilities of all parties, limits of confidentiality, and the inability to guarantee that confidentiality will be maintained by all parties.
II-17 Minors and Others	Addiction Professionals shall protect the confidentiality of any information received when counseling minor clients or adult clients who lack the capacity to provide voluntary informed consent, regardless of the medium, in accordance with federal and state laws, and organizational policies and procedures. Parents, guardians, and appropriate third parties shall be informed regarding the role of the provider and the limits of confidentiality in the counseling relationship.
II-18 Storage and Disposal	Addiction Professionals shall create and/or abide by federal and state laws, and organizational policies and procedures regarding the storage, transfer, and disposal of confidential records. Providers shall maintain client confidentiality in all mediums and forms of documentation.

II-19 Video Recording	Addiction Professionals shall obtain informed consent and releases of information prior to videotaping, audio recording, or permitting third party observation of any client interaction or group therapy session. Clients shall be fully informed regarding recordings, which shall include, but shall not be limited to the purpose, who shall have access, and the storage and disposal of recordings prior to recording.
II-20 Recording e- therapy	Addiction Professionals shall obtain informed consent and a written Release of Information prior to recording an electronic therapy session. Prior to obtaining informed consent for recording e-therapy the provider shall obtain supervision or consultation, and shall document the recommendations. Providers shall disclose to the client, in informed consent, how e-records shall be stored, maintained, and disposed, and in what time frame.
II-21 Federal Regulation Statement	Addiction Professionals shall ensure that all information released to others shall be accompanied by a statement identifying the federal regulations governing such disclosure, and shall notify clients when a disclosure is made, to whom the disclosure was made, and for what purposes the disclosure was made.
II-22 Transfer Records	Unless exceptions to confidentiality exists, Addiction Professionals shall obtain written permission from clients to disclose or transfer records to legitimate third parties. Providers shall ensure that receivers of counseling records shall be made aware of their confidential nature. Addiction Professionals shall ensure that all information released shall meet requirements of 42 CFR part 2 and HIPPA. All information released shall be appropriately marked as confidential.
II-23 Written Permission	Addiction Professionals who receive confidential information about any past, present, or potential client shall not disclose such information without obtaining written permission from the client allowing such release.
II-24 Multidisciplinary Consultation	Addiction Professionals shall not release confidential information to external professionals, which shall include, but shall not be limited to physicians, probation and parole officers, and psychiatrists without first obtaining written consent to release information.
II-25 Health Status	Addiction Professionals shall adhere to relevant federal and state laws concerning the disclosure of a client's health status.
II-26 Storage and Disposal	Addiction Professionals shall store, safeguard, and dispose of client records in accordance with federal and state laws, accepted professional standards, and in ways which protect the confidentiality of clients.
II-27 Temporary Assistance	Addiction Professionals, when serving clients of another agency or colleague during a temporary absence or emergency, shall serve those clients with the same professional consideration and confidentiality as that afforded the professional's own clients.
II-28 Termination	Addiction Professionals shall protect client confidentiality in the event of the counselor's termination of practice, incapacity, or death. Providers shall appoint a records custodian when identified as appropriate, in their organization or private practice policies, in their professional Will or other document.
II-29 Consultation	Addiction Professionals shall share information about a client with a consultant only for professional purposes. Providers shall only release information pertaining to the reason for the consultation. Providers shall protect the client's identity and prevent breaches of the client's privacy. Addiction Professionals, when consulting with colleagues or referral sources, shall not share confidential information obtained in clinical or consulting relationships that could lead to the identification of the client, unless the provider has obtained prior written consent from the client. Information shall be shared only in appropriate clinical settings and only to the extent necessary to achieve the purposes of the consultation.

PRINCIPLE III: PROFESSIONAL RESPONSIBILITIES AND WORKPLACE STANDARDS

III-1 Responsibility	Addiction Professionals shall abide by the IBADCC Code of Ethics. Addiction Professionals shall read, understand, and follow the IBADCC Code of Ethics and shall adhere to applicable federal and state laws and regulations.
III-2 Integrity	Addiction Professionals shall conduct themselves with integrity. Providers shall maintain integrity in their professional and personal relationships and activities. Providers shall communicate honestly, accurately, and appropriately to clients, peers, and the public, regardless of the communication medium used.
III-3 Discrimination	Addiction Professionals shall not engage in, endorse, or condone discrimination against prospective or current clients and their families, students, employees, volunteers, supervisees, or research participants based on their race, ethnicity, age, disability, religion, spirituality, gender, gender identity, sexual orientation, marital or partnership status, pregnancy, language preference, socioeconomic status, immigration status, active duty or veteran status, or any other basis.
III-4 Nondiscriminatory	Addiction Professionals shall provide services that are nondiscriminatory and nonjudgmental. Providers shall not exploit others in their professional relationships. Providers shall maintain appropriate professional and personal boundaries.

III-7 Harassment	Addiction Professionals shall not engage in or condone any form of harassment, including sexual harassment.
III-8 Membership	Addiction Professionals shall intentionally differentiate between current, active memberships and former or inactive memberships with IBADCC and other professional associations.
III-9 Credentials	Addiction Professionals shall claim and present only those educational degrees conferred upon them by accredited institutions. Providers shall claim and present only those specialized certifications received from a qualified certifying body. Providers shall accurately represent the accreditation status of a specific institution of higher learning or certifying body.
III-10 Credentials	Addiction Professionals shall claim and promote only those licenses and certifications that are current and in good standing.

III-11 Accuracy of References	Addiction Professionals and providers shall correct all references to their credentials and affiliations that are false, deceptive, or misleading. Providers shall advocate for accuracy in statements made by self or others about the addiction profession.
III-12 Accuracy of Representation	Addiction Professionals shall accurately represent professional qualifications, education, experience, memberships, affiliations, or recovery history. Providers shall accept employment only on the basis of existing competencies or explicit intent to acquire the necessary competence.
III-13 Scope of Practice	Addiction Professionals shall only provide services within their scope of practice and competency, and shall only offer services that are science-based, evidence-based, and outcome-driven. Providers shall engage in counseling practices that are grounded in rigorous research methodologies. Providers shall maintain adequate knowledge of and adhere to applicable professional standards of practice.
III-14 Boundaries of Competence	Addiction Professionals shall only practice within the boundaries of their competence. Competence shall be established through education, training, skills, supervised experience, state and national professional credentials and certifications, and relevant professional experience.
III-15 Proficiency	Addiction Professionals shall seek and develop proficiency through relevant education, training, and supervised experience prior to independently delivering specialty services. Providers shall obtain supervised experience and consultation to ensure the validity of their work and shall protect clients from harm when developing skills in new specialty areas.
III-16 Educational Achievement	Addiction Professionals shall recognize that advanced educational achievement shall be necessary to provide the level of service that clients deserve. Providers shall accept and acknowledge the need for formal and specialized education as a vital component of professional development, competency, and integrity.
III-17 Continuing Education	Addiction Professionals shall engage in continuing education and professional development opportunities in order to maintain and enhance knowledge of researched-based scientific developments within the profession. Providers shall learn and utilize new procedures relevant to the clients they serve, under supervision. Providers shall remain informed regarding best practices for working with diverse populations.
III-18 Self-Monitoring	Addiction Professionals shall continually self-monitor in order to meet their professional obligations. Providers shall engage in self-care activities that promote and maintain their physical, psychological, emotional, and spiritual well-being.
III-19 Scientific	Addiction Professionals shall use techniques, procedures, and modalities that have a scientific and empirical foundation. Providers shall utilize counseling techniques and procedures that are grounded in theory, evidenced-based, outcome-driven and/or a research-supported promising practice. Providers shall not use techniques, procedures, or modalities that have substantial evidence suggesting harm, even when such services are requested.

	need to limit the use of mood-altering chemicals for clientele in SUD treatment and/or recovery.
III-23 Medical Professionals	Addiction Professionals shall recognize the need for the use of mood-altering chemicals in limited medical situations, and shall work to educate medical professionals to limit, monitor, and closely supervise the administration of such chemicals when their use is necessary.
III-24 Collaborative Care	Addiction Professionals shall collaborate with other health care professionals in providing a supportive environment for any client who receives prescribed medication.
III-25 Multidisciplinary Care	Collaborative multidisciplinary care teams shall be focused on increasing the client's functionality and wellness. Addiction Professionals who are members of a multidisciplinary care team shall work with team members to clarify professional and ethical obligations of the team as a whole, and its individual members. If ethical concerns develop as a result of a team decision, providers shall try to attempt to resolve the concern within the team first. If resolution cannot be reached within the team, providers shall obtain and document supervision and/or consultation to address their concerns consistent with client well-being.
III-26 Collegial	Addiction Professionals shall be aware of the need for collegiality and cooperation within the helping professions. Providers shall act in good faith towards colleagues and other professionals, and shall treat colleagues and other professionals with respect, courtesy, honesty, and fairness.
III-27 Collaborative Care	Addiction Professionals shall develop respect and collaborative relationships with other professionals who are working with a specific client. Providers shall not offer professional services to a client who is in counseling with another professional, except with the knowledge and documented approval of the other professional, or following termination of services with the other professional.
III-28 Qualified	Addiction Professionals shall work to promote the practice of addiction counseling by qualified persons and shall only employ individuals who have the appropriate and requisite education, training, licensure and/or certification, and supervised experience.
III-29 Advocacy	Addiction Professionals shall be aware of society's stigma and prejudice of people with substance use disorders and shall willingly engage in the legislative process, educational institutes, and public forums to educate people about addictive disorders, and shall advocate for opportunities and choices for clients. Providers shall advocate for their clients as needed.
III-30 Advocacy	Addiction Professionals shall inform the public of the impact of substance use disorders through active participation in civic affairs and community organizations. Providers shall act to ensure that all persons, especially the disadvantaged, have access to opportunities, resources, and services required to treat and manage their disorders. Providers shall educate the public about substance use disorders, and shall work to dispel negative myths, stereotypes, and misconceptions about substance use disorders and the people who have them.
III-31 Present Knowledge	Addiction Professionals shall respect the limits of present knowledge in public statements concerning addictions treatment, and shall report that knowledge accurately without distortion or misrepresentation to the public and others.
III-32 Organizational versus Private	Addiction Professionals shall clearly distinguish between statements made and actions taken as private individuals, and statements made and actions taken as a representative of an agency, group, organization, or the addiction profession.
III-33 Public Comments IBADCC	Addiction Professionals shall make no public comments disparaging IBADCC or the addictions profession, substance use disorders, the legislative process or any person involved in the legislative process. The term "public comments" shall include, but is not limited to any and all forms of oral, written, or electronic communication.
III-34 Development	Addiction Professionals shall actively participate in local, state, and national associations that promote professional development.

III-35 Policy	Addiction Professionals shall support the formulation, development, enactment, and implementation of public policy and legislation concerning the addiction profession and our clients.
III-36 Parity	Addiction Professionals shall work for parity in insurance coverage for substance use disorders as primary medical disorders.
III-37 Impairment	Addiction Professionals shall recognize the effect of impairment on professional performance and shall seek appropriate professional assistance for any personal problems or conflicts that may impair work performance or judgment. III-47 Illegal Practices	Addiction Professionals who become aware of inappropriate, illegal, discriminatory, and/or unethical policies, procedures and practices at their agency, organization, or practice shall alert their employers. When there is potential for harm to clients, or limitations on the effectiveness of services, providers shall seek supervision and/or consultation to determine appropriate next steps and further action. Providers and Supervisors shall not harass or intimidate an employee or colleague who has acted in a responsible and ethical manner to expose inappropriate employer/employee policies, procedures, and/or practices.
III-48 Supervision	Addiction Professionals who act in the role of supervisor and/or consultant shall ensure that they have appropriate resources and competencies prior to providing supervisory or consultation services. Supervisors or consultants shall provide appropriate referrals to resources when requested or needed.
III-49 Supervision	Addiction Professionals who offer supervisory or consultation services shall review with the supervisee/consultee, both verbally and in writing, the rights and responsibilities of both the supervisor/consultant and the supervisee/consultee. Providers shall inform all parties involved about the purpose, costs, risks, benefits, and the limits of confidentiality of the services to be provided.
III-50 Credit	Addiction Professionals shall give appropriate credit to the authors or creators of all materials used in the course of their work. Providers shall not plagiarize another person's work.

PRINCIPLE IV: WORKING IN A CULTURALLY-DIVERSE WORLD

IV-1 Respect	Addiction Professionals shall be knowledgeable and aware of diverse cultural, individual, societal, and role differences amongst the clients they serve in a diversity of settings along the continuum of care. Providers shall offer services that demonstrate appropriate respect for the fundamental rights, dignity, and worth of all clients.
IV-2 Cultural Humility	Addiction Professionals shall demonstrate cultural humility. Providers shall maintain an interpersonal perspective that is other-oriented and accepting of the cultural identities of the other person, which shall include, but shall not be limited to clients, colleagues, peers, employees, employers, volunteers, supervisors, and supervisees.
IV-3 Meanings	Addiction Professionals shall be willing to discuss the diverse cultural meanings associated with confidentiality and privacy. Providers should be willing to discuss differing opinions regarding the disclosure of information with client(s) and supervisor(s).
IV-4 Personal Beliefs	Addiction Professionals shall develop an understanding of their own personal, professional, and cultural values and beliefs. Providers shall recognize which personal and professional values may be in alignment with or in conflict with the values and needs of the client. Providers shall not use cultural or value differences as a reason to engage in discrimination. Providers shall obtain supervision and/or consultation to discuss areas of difference and to decrease biases, judgment, and micro-aggressions, and shall document the recommendations.
IV-5 Heritage	Addiction Professionals shall practice cultural humility, and shall accept the values, norms, and cultural heritage of their clients. Providers shall not impose his/her values and/or beliefs on the client.
IV-6 Credibility	Addiction Professionals shall practice cultural humility and shall be credible, capable, and trustworthy. Providers shall use a cultural humility framework to consider diversity of values, interactional styles, and cultural expectations.
IV-7 Roles	Addiction Professionals shall respect the role of family members, social supports and community structures, hierarchies, values, and beliefs within the client's culture. Providers shall consider the impact of adverse social, environmental, and political factors in assessing concerns and designing interventions.

IV-8 Methodologies	Addiction Professionals shall only use methodologies, skills, and practices that are evidence-based, and outcome-driven for the populations being served. Providers shall obtain ongoing professional development opportunities to develop specialized knowledge and understanding of the groups they serve. Providers shall obtain the necessary knowledge and training to maintain humility and sensitivity when working with clients of diverse backgrounds.
IV-9 Advocacy	Addiction Professionals shall advocate for the needs of the diverse population they serve.
IV-10 Recruitment	Addiction Professionals shall engage in and advocate for the recruitment and retention of professionals and service providers who represent diverse cultural groups.
IV-11 Special Needs	Addiction Professionals shall provide and advocate for the provision of services that meet the special needs of clients, including linguistic diversity and disabilities.
IV-12 Culturally Driven Needs	Addiction Professionals recognize that conventional counseling styles may not meet the needs of all clients. Providers shall discuss with the client how to determine the best manner in which to service the client. Providers shall obtain supervision and/or consultation when working with individuals with specific culturally-driven needs, and shall document the recommendations.

PRINCIPLE V: ASSESSMENT, EVALUATION, AND INTERPRETATION

V-1 Assessment	Addiction Professionals shall use assessments appropriately within the counseling process. Providers shall consider the client’s personal and cultural context when assessing and evaluating a client. Providers shall develop and/or use appropriate mental health, substance use disorders, and other relevant assessment tools.
V-2 Validity-Reliability	Addiction Professionals shall utilize only those assessment instruments whose validity and reliability have been established for the population being tested, and for which they have received adequate training in administration and interpretation. Counselors who use technology-assisted test interpretations shall be trained in the construct being measured and the specific instrument being used prior to using its technology-based application.
V-3 Validity	Addiction Professionals shall consider the validity, reliability, psychometric limitations, and appropriateness when selecting assessments. Providers shall use data from several relevant assessment tools and/or instruments to form conclusions, diagnosis, and recommendations.
V-4 Explanations	Addiction Professionals shall explain to clients the nature and purposes of each assessment and the intended use of the results, prior to the administration of the assessment. Providers shall offer explanations in terms and language that the client or other legally authorized person can understand.
V-5 Administration	Addiction Professionals shall provide an appropriate environment, free from distractions, for the administration of assessments. Providers shall ensure that technology-administered assessments are functionally appropriate and providing accurate results.
V-6 Cultural Influences	Addiction Professionals shall recognize and understand that culture influences the manner in which client’s concerns are defined and experienced. Providers shall be aware of historical traumas and social prejudices in the misdiagnosis and pathologizing of specific individuals and groups. Providers shall develop awareness of prejudices and biases within self and others and shall address such biases within themselves or others. Providers shall consider the client’s cultural experiences when diagnosing and planning for mental health and substance use disorders treatment.
V-7 Diagnosing	Addiction Professionals shall provide proper diagnosis of mental health and substance use disorders, within their scope and licensure. Assessment techniques used to determine client placement for care shall be carefully selected and appropriately used.

V-8 Results	Addiction Professionals shall consider the client’s welfare, explicit understanding, and previous agreements in determining when and how to provide assessment results.
V-9 Misusing Results	Addiction Professionals shall not misuse assessment results and interpretations. Providers shall respect the client’s right to know the results, interpretation, and diagnosis made and shall provide results, interpretation, and diagnoses in a manner that is understandable and does not cause harm. Providers shall adopt practices that prevent others from misusing assessment results and interpretations.
V-10 Normed Population	Addiction Professionals shall select and use, with caution, assessment tools and techniques normed on populations other than that of the client. Providers shall obtain supervision and/or consultation when using assessment tools that are not normed to the client’s cultural identities, and shall document the recommendations.
V-11 Referral	Addiction Counselors shall provide specific and relevant data about the client, when referring a client to a third party for assessment or evaluation, to ensure that appropriate instruments are used.
V-12 Security	Addiction Professionals shall maintain the integrity and security of tests and assessment data, thereby addressing legal and contractual obligations. Providers shall not reproduce or modify published assessments, or parts thereof, without written permission from the publisher. Providers shall give credit to the developer and/or publisher of the test or assessment.
V-13 Forensic	Addiction Professionals who conduct a forensic evaluation shall inform the client, verbally and in writing, that the current relationship is for the specific purpose of forensic evaluation, and that the evaluation shall not be therapeutic. Entities and individuals who shall receive the evaluation report shall be identified prior to conducting the evaluation. Providers performing the forensic evaluation shall obtain written consent from those being evaluated, or from their legal representative, unless a court orders an evaluation be conducted without the written consent of the individual being evaluated. Informed written consent shall be obtained from a parent or guardian prior to the evaluation, when a child or adult lacks the capacity to give voluntary consent.
V-14 Forensic	Addiction Professionals conducting a forensic evaluation shall provide verifiable objective findings based on the data gathered during the assessment/evaluation process and review of records. Providers shall offer unbiased professional opinions based on the data gathered and analysis performed.
V-15 Dual Relationships	Addiction Professionals shall not perform a forensic evaluation on current or former clients, spouses, or partners of current or former clients, or the clients’ family members. Providers shall not provide counseling to the individuals who they forensically evaluate. Providers shall avoid potentially harmful dual relationships with the family members, romantic partners, and close friends of individuals they forensically evaluate.

PRINCIPLE VI: E-THERAPY, E-SUPERVISION, AND SOCIAL MEDIA

VI-1 Introduction	Addiction Professionals are witnessing an expansion of available technologies that offer opportunities for electronic and distance delivery of care, billing services and client record storage, transfer, and maintenance. Providers shall be current on related technologies and understand their application. Providers shall consider the potential benefits and risks for harm to clients in exposure to specific technologies or in having confidential information stored and/or transmitted electronically. Examples of potential benefits of using e-delivery of counseling services shall include, but shall not be limited to (a) reducing geographical barriers, (b) provision of services to those with physical or psychological disorders and, (c) working with individuals and families who would not take advantage of traditional services. Examples of potential limitations of using e-delivery for counseling services shall include, but shall not be limited to (a) concerns about maintaining confidentiality, (b) challenges associated with developing a therapeutic alliance (c) inability to access nonverbal communication, (d) determining and resolving practice and licensure jurisdiction concerns, and e) assessment and provision of emergency services.

VI-1 Definition	“E-Therapy” and “E-Supervision” shall refer to the provision of services by an addiction counselor using technology, electronic devices, and HIPPA-complaint resources. Electronic platforms shall include, but shall not be limited to: land-based and mobile communication devices, fax machines, webcams, computers, laptops, tablets, flash drives, external hard drives, and cloud storage. E-Therapy and e-supervision shall include, but shall not be limited to the following delivery platforms: tele-therapy, real-time video-based therapy and services, emailing, texting, chatting, and instant messaging. Providers and clinical Supervisors shall be aware of the unique challenges created by electronic forms of communication and the use of available technology, and shall take steps to ensure that the provision of e-therapy and e-supervision is as safe and confidential as possible.
VI-2 Competency	Addiction Professionals who choose to engage in the use of technology for e-therapy, distance counseling, and e-supervision shall pursue specialized knowledge and competency regarding the technical, ethical, and legal considerations specific to technology, social media, and distance counseling. Providers shall be trained and current in their knowledge of e-therapy technology and techniques.
VI-3 Informed Consent	Addiction Professionals who are offering an electronic platform for e-therapy, distance counseling, case management, and/or e-supervision shall provide an Electronic/Technology Informed Consent, which shall explain the right of each client and supervisee to be fully informed about services to be delivered through technological mediums, and shall provide each client/supervisee information in clear and understandable language regarding the purposes, risks, limitations, and cost of treatment services, reasonable alternatives, their right to refuse service delivery through electronic means and their right to withdraw consent at any time. Providers shall review with the client/supervisee, both verbally and in writing the rights and responsibilities of both providers and clients/supervisees. Providers shall have the client/supervisee attest to their understanding of parameters covered by the Electronic/Technology Informed Consent by signing the Electronic/Technology Informed Consent. Providers who obtain initial Consent by verbal attestation shall follow up in a timely manner with a written, signed, and dated document.
VI-4 Informed Consent	Addiction Professionals shall execute through e-therapy informed consent prior to starting technology-based services. A technology-based informed consent discussion shall include, but shall not be limited to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Contact information of the client, counselor/provider, and supervisor;</li> <li>- E-therapy is not always an appropriate substitute or replacement for face-to-face counseling;</li> <li>- All of the procedures that apply to delivery of in-person services shall apply to the e-delivery of services;</li> <li>- Duty to warn and mandatory reporting laws shall apply to all counseling services, including e-therapy;</li> <li>- Confidentiality and privacy rules and laws, and exceptions to those rules and laws;</li> <li>- Issues related to security and privacy of information, and potential for hacking or other unauthorized viewings;</li> <li>- Access to counseling services and to technology assistance to use e-therapy;</li> <li>- Benefits and limitations of engaging in the use of distance counseling, technology, and/or social media;</li> <li>- Potential misunderstandings due to limited visual and auditory cues;</li> <li>- Potential for confusion often present in e-delivery of services;</li> <li>- Response time to asynchronous communication (emails, texts, chats, etc.);</li> <li>- Possibility of technology failure and alternative methods of service deliver;</li> <li>- Emergency protocols to follow;</li> <li>- Procedures for when the counselor is not available;</li> </ul>

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Consideration of time zone differences;</li> <li>- Policy regarding recording of sessions by either party;</li> <li>- Cultural and/or language differences that may affect delivery of services;</li> <li>- Possible denial of insurance benefits; and</li> <li>- Social media policy.</li> </ul>
VI-5 Verification	Addiction Professionals who engage in the use of electronic platforms for the delivery of services shall take reasonable steps to verify the clients/supervisees' identity prior to engaging in the e-therapy relationship and throughout the therapeutic relationship. Verification shall include, but shall not be limited to a minimum of one of the following: picture I.D's, code words, numbers, graphics, or other nondescript identifiers.
VI-6 Licensing Laws	Addiction Professionals shall comply with relevant licensing laws in the jurisdiction where the provider/clinical supervisor is physically located when receiving care. Emergency management protocols shall be entirely dependent on the location where the client/supervisee receives services. Providers, during informed consent, shall notify their clients/supervisees of the legal rights and limitations governing the practice of counseling/supervising across state lines or international boundaries. Providers shall advise clients that mandatory reporting and related ethical requirements such as duty to warn/notify shall be governed by the jurisdiction where the client/supervisee is receiving services.
VI-7 State and Federal Laws	Addiction Professionals utilizing technology, social media, and distance counseling within their practice shall be subject to state and federal laws and regulations governing the counselor's practicing location. Providers utilizing technology, social media, and distance counseling within their practice shall be subject to laws and regulations in the clients/supervisees state of residency, and shall be subject to laws and regulations in the state where the client/supervisee is located during the actual delivery of services.
VI-8 Non-secured	Addiction Professionals shall be aware that electronic means of communication are not secured, and shall inform client's, students, and supervisees that remote services using electronic means of delivery cannot be entirely secured or confidential. Providers who provide services via electronic technology shall fully inform each client, student, or supervisee of the limitations and risks regarding confidentiality associated with electronic delivery including the fact that electronic exchanges may become part of clinical, academic, or professional records. Providers shall ensure that clinical discussions cannot be overheard by others outside of the room where the services are provided. Providers shall conduct internet-based counseling on HIPPA-complaint servers.
VI-9 Assess	Addiction Professionals shall assess and document the client/supervisees' ability to benefit in and engage in e-therapy services. Providers shall consider the client/supervisees' cognitive capacity and maturity, past and current diagnoses, communication skills, level of competence using technology, and access to the necessary technology. Providers shall consider geographical distance to the nearest medical emergency facility, efficacy of client's support system, the client's current and behavioral health status, the client's current or past difficulties with substance abuse, and the client's history of violence or self-injurious behaviors.
VI-10 Transmission	Provider shall use current encryption standards within their websites and for technology-based communications. Providers shall take reasonable precautions to ensure the confidentiality of information transmitted and stored through any electronic means.
VI-11 Multidisciplinary Care	Addiction Professionals shall discuss with the client that optimal clinical management of the client may depend on coordination of care between a multidisciplinary care team. Providers shall explain to the client that the provider may need to develop collaborative relationships with local community professionals, such as the client's local primary care provider and local emergency service providers, as this would be critical in case of emergencies.

VI-12 Local Resources	Addiction Professionals shall be familiar with in-person mental health resources in the client's geographic location, should the provider exercise clinical judgment to make a referral for additional substance abuse, mental health, or other appropriate services.
VI-13 Boundaries	Addiction Professionals shall maintain a professional relationship with their client's/supervisees' regarding the appropriate use and application of technology, and limitations of its use within the counseling/supervisor relationship. Providers shall be aware of the unique risks for boundary crossing associated with the e-delivery of services.
VI-14 Capability	Addiction Professionals shall determine whether the client/supervisee shall be physically, intellectually, emotionally, linguistically, and functionally capable or using e-therapy platforms and whether e-therapy/e-supervision is appropriate for the needs of the client/supervisee. Providers and client/supervisees shall agree on the means of e-therapy/e-supervision to be used and the steps to be taken in case of a technology failure. Providers shall verify that clients/supervisees understand the purpose and operation of technology applications and follow-up with clients/supervisees to correct potential concerns, discover appropriate use, and assess subsequent steps.
VI-15 Missing Cues	Addiction Professionals shall acknowledge the differences between non-verbal and verbal cues in face-to-face and electronic communication, and how these could influence the counseling/supervision process. Providers shall discuss with their clients/supervisees how to prevent and address potential misunderstandings arising from the lack of visual cues and voice inflections when communicating electronically.
VI-16 Records	Addiction Professionals shall be aware of the inherent dangers of electronic health records. Providers shall inform clients/supervisees of the benefits and risks of maintaining records in a Cloud-based file management system and discuss the fact that nothing that is electronically saved on a Cloud is secure and confidential. Providers shall ensure that Cloud-based file management shall be encrypted, secured, and HIPPA-compliant. Providers shall use encryption programs when transmitting client information to protect confidentiality.
VI-17 Records	Addiction Professionals shall maintain electronic records in accordance with relevant state and federal laws and statutes. Providers shall inform clients on how records will be maintained electronically and/or physically, which shall include, but shall not be limited to, the type of encryption and security used to store the records and the length of time storage of records will be maintained.
VI-18 Links	Addiction Professionals who provide e-therapy services and/or maintain a professional website shall provide electronic links to relevant licensure and certification boards and professional membership organizations, to protect the client's/supervisees' rights and to address ethical concerns.
VI-19 Friends	Addiction Professionals shall not accept client "friend" requests on social networking sites or via email. Providers who choose to maintain a professional and personal presence for social media use, shall create separate professional and personal web pages, and profiles, which shall clearly distinguish between the professional and personal virtual presence.
VI-20 Social Media	Addiction Professionals shall clearly explain to their clients/supervisees, as part of informed consent the benefits, inherent risks, including lack of confidentiality, and necessary boundaries surrounding the use of social media. Providers shall clearly explain their policies and procedures specific to the use of social media in clinical relationships with the client/supervisee. Providers shall respect the client's/supervisees' right to privacy on social media, and shall not investigate the client/supervisee without prior consent.

PRINCIPLE VII: SUPERVISION AND CONSULTATION

VII-1 Responsibility	Addiction Professionals who teach and provide clinical supervision shall accept the responsibility of enhancing professional development of students and supervisees by providing accurate and current information, timely feedback and evaluations, and constructive consultation.

The Supervision contract shall include, but shall not be limited to the following items: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Definition of clinical supervision;</li> <li>- Scope of practice of the clinical supervisor;</li> <li>- Format and scheduling or supervision;</li> <li>- Confidentiality of client information;</li> <li>- Methods of supervision (approaches used);</li> <li>- Types (individuals, groups, in-person observation, e-supervision, audio and video tapes);</li> <li>- Expectations and responsibilities of each person;</li> <li>- Accountability and Evaluation;</li> <li>- Documentation and file audits;</li> <li>- Fees and no-show policies;</li> <li>- Conflict resolution</li> <li>- Client notification- supervisee shall inform clients that they are in supervision and the parameters of supervision;</li> <li>- Duration and termination of the supervisory relationship;</li> <li>- All parties shall adhere to all applicable regulatory and state and federal rules and laws;</li> <li>- All parties shall adhere to IBADCC code of ethics;</li> <li>- Expectations regarding liability insurance;</li> <li>- Notification of expectation regarding a clinical emergency or duty to warn event with a client;</li> <li>- Notification or expectation regarding a grievance, sanction, or lawsuit filed against the supervisee.</li> </ul>
VII-5 Informed consent	Supervisees shall provide the client with a written professional disclosure statement. Supervisees shall inform the client about how the supervision process influences the limits of confidentiality. Supervisees shall inform the client about who shall have access to their clinical records, and when and how these records shall be stored, transmitted, or otherwise reviewed.
VII-6 Clinical Crisis	Clinical Supervisors shall communicate to the supervisee, during supervision informed consent, procedures for handling client/clinical crisis. Supervisors shall also communicate and document alternate procedures in the event the supervisee is unable to establish contact with the supervisor during a client/clinical crisis.
VII-7 Due Process	Clinical Supervisors shall inform supervisees of policies and procedures to which Supervisors shall adhere. Supervisors shall inform supervisees regarding the mechanisms for due process of appeal for supervisor actions.
VII-8 Multiculturalism	Clinical Supervisors shall address the role of multiculturalism in the supervisory relationship between supervisor and supervisee. Supervisor shall offer didactic learning content and experiential opportunities related to multiculturalism and cultural humility throughout their programs.
VII-9 Diversity	Clinical Supervisors shall recognize and value the diverse talents and abilities that supervisees bring to their training experience.

VII-10 Boundaries	Clinical Supervisors shall intentionally develop respect and relevant professional relationships and maintain appropriate boundaries with supervisees in all venues. Supervisors shall be accurate and honest in their assessments of supervisees.
VII- 11 Boundaries	Clinical Supervisors shall define and maintain ethical professional, personal, and social boundaries with their supervisees. Supervisors shall not enter into a romantic/sexual/nonprofessional relationship with current supervisees, whether in-person or electronically.
VII-12 Monitor	Clinical Supervisors shall monitor the services provided by supervisees. Supervisors shall monitor client welfare. Clinical Supervisors shall monitor supervisee performance and professional development. Supervisors shall instruct and guide supervisees as they prepare to serve a diverse client population. Supervisors shall read, know, understand, and adhere to and promote the IBADCC Code of Ethics.
VII-13 Assessment	Clinical Supervisors shall take reasonable measures to ensure the proper use of assessments techniques by persons under their supervision.
VII-14 Treatment	Educators and site Supervisors shall assume the primary obligation of assisting students to acquire ethics, knowledge, and skills necessary to treatment substance use and addictive behavioral disorders.
VII-15 Impairment	Supervisees shall monitor themselves for signs of physical, psychological and/or emotional impairment. Supervisees shall notify their institutional program of the impairment, and shall obtain appropriate guidance and assistance.
VII-16 Clients	Supervisees shall disclose to clients their status as students and supervisees, and shall provide an explanation as to how their status affects the limits of confidentiality. Supervisees shall disclose to clients contact information for the Clinical Supervisor. Supervisees shall obtain informed consent in writing and shall include the client's rights to refuse to be treated by a person-in-training.
VII-17 Disclosures	Supervisees shall obtain and document clinical supervision or consultation prior to disclosing personal addiction and recovery information with a client. Supervisees shall only make disclosures to a client for the benefit of the client and their work, and disclosures shall not be made to benefit the supervisee.
VII-18 Observations	Clinical Supervisor shall provide and document regular supervision sessions with the supervisee. Supervisors shall regularly observe the supervisee in session using live observation or audio or video tapes. Supervisors shall provide ongoing feedback regarding the supervisee's performance with clients and within the agency. Supervisors shall regularly schedule sessions to formally evaluate and direct the supervisee.
VII-19 Gatekeepers	Clinical Supervisors shall be aware of the responsibilities as the addiction profession's gatekeepers. Supervisors shall, through ongoing evaluation, monitor supervisor limitations that might impede performance. Supervisors shall assist supervisees in securing timely corrective assistance, including referral of the supervisee to therapy when needed. Supervisors may recommend corrective action or dismissal from training programs, applied counseling settings, and state or voluntary professional credentialing processes when the supervisee is unable to demonstrate that they can provide competent professional services. Supervisors shall obtain supervision-of-supervision and/or consultation, and shall document their decisions to dismiss or refer the supervisee for assistance.
VII-20 Education	Educators and site Supervisors shall ensure that their educational and training programs are designed to provide appropriate knowledge and experiences related to addictions that meet the requirements for degrees, licensure, certification, and other program goals.
VII-21 Education	Educator and site Supervisors shall provide education and training in an ethical manner, adhering to the IBADCC Code of Ethics, regardless of the teaching platform which shall include, but shall not be limited to traditional, hybrid, and/or online. Educators and site Supervisors shall serve as professional role models demonstrating appropriate behaviors.
VII-22 Current	Educators and site Supervisors shall ensure that program content and instruction are based on the most current knowledge and information available in the addiction profession.

	Educators and site Supervisors shall only promote the use of those modalities and techniques that have an empirical or scientific foundation.
VII-23 Evaluation	Educators and site Supervisors shall ensure that students' performances are evaluated in a fair and respectful manner, and on the basis of clearly stated criteria.
VII-24 Dual Relationships	Educators and site Supervisors shall avoid dual relationships and/or non-academic relationships with students, interns, and supervisees.
VII-25 Dual Relationships	Clinical Supervisors shall not supervise relatives, romantic or sexual partners, or personal friends, nor develop romantic, sexual, or personal relationships with students or supervisees. Consultation with a third party shall be obtained, and recommendations shall be documented prior to engaging in a dual supervisory relationship.
VII-26 e-supervision	Clinical Supervisors who use technology in supervision (e-supervision) shall be competent in the use of specific technologies. Supervisors shall discuss with the supervisee the risks and benefits of using e-supervision. Supervisors shall determine how to utilize specific protections which shall include, but shall not be limited to encryption necessary for protecting the confidentiality of information transmitted through any electronic means. Supervisors and supervisees shall be aware that confidentiality is not guaranteed when using technology as a communication and delivery platform.

Clinical Supervisors shall not endorse any supervisee who the Supervisor believes to be impaired or who demonstrates they are unable to provide appropriate clinical services.

PRINCIPLE VIII: RESOLVING ETHICAL CONCERNS

VIII—1 Code of Ethics	Addiction Professionals should adhere to and uphold the IBADCC Code of Ethics and shall be knowledgeable regarding established policies and procedures for handling concerns related to unethical behaviors, at both the state and national levels. Addiction Professionals shall hold providers to the same ethical and legal standards and shall be willing to take appropriate action to ensure that these standards shall be upheld. Providers shall resolve ethical dilemmas with direct and open communication among all parties involved and shall obtain supervision and/or consultation when necessary. Providers shall incorporate ethical practice into their daily professional work. Providers shall engage in ongoing professional development regarding ethical and legal issues in counseling. Providers shall be aware that client welfare and trust depend on a high level of professional conduct.
VIII-2 Endorsement	Addiction Professionals shall abide by and endorse the IBADCC Code of Ethics and other applicable ethics codes from professional organizations and certifications and licensure bodies of which they are members. Providers should not be able to use lack of knowledge or misunderstanding of an ethical responsibility as a defense against a complaint of unethical conduct.
VIII-3	Addiction Professionals shall utilize and document, when appropriate, an ethical decision-making model when faced with an ethical dilemma. An viable decision-making model shall Decision Making Model	include, but shall not be limited to: a) supervision and/or consultation regarding the concern; b) consideration of relevant ethical standards, principles, and laws; c) generation of potential courses of action; d) deliberation of risks and benefits of each potential course of action; e) selection of an objective decision based on the circumstances and welfare of all involved; f) reflection upon and re-direction when necessary, after implementing the decision.

VIII-4 Jurisdiction	IBADCC shall have jurisdiction over all complaints filed against any person holding or applying for IBADCC certification.
VIII-5 Investigations	IBADCC shall have authority to conduct investigations, issue rulings, and invoke disciplinary action in any instance of alleged misconduct by an Addictions Professional.
VIII-6 Participation	Addiction Professionals shall be required to cooperate with the implementation of the IBADCC Code of Ethics and to participate in, and abide by, any and all disciplinary actions and rulings based on the Code. Failure to participate or cooperate shall be a violation of the IBADCC Code of Ethics.
VIII-7 Cooperation	Addiction Professionals shall assist in the process of enforcing the IBADCC Code of Ethics. Providers shall cooperate with investigations, proceedings, and requirements of the IBADCC Ethics Committee, ethics committees of other professional associations, and/or licensing and certification boards having jurisdiction over those charged with a violation.
VIII-8 Agency Conflict	Addiction Professionals shall seek and document supervision and/or consultation in the event that ethical responsibilities conflict with agency policies and procedures, state and/or federal laws, regulations and/or other governing legal authority. Supervision and/or consultation shall be obtained and documented to determine the next best steps.
VIII-9 Crossroads	Addiction Professionals may find themselves with a dilemma when the demands of an organization where the provider is affiliated poses a conflict with the IBADCC Code of Ethics. Providers shall determine the nature of the conflict and shall discuss the conflict with their supervisor or other relevant person, and shall express their commitment to the IBADCC Code of Ethics. Providers shall attempt to work through the appropriate channels to address their concern.
VIII-10 Violations without Harm	Addiction Professionals who become aware of evidence to suggest that another provider is violating or has violated an ethical standard where no harm has occurred shall attempt to resolve the issue informally with the other provider, if feasible, provided such an action does not violate confidentiality rights that may be involved.
VIII-11 Violations with Harm	Addiction Professionals shall report unethical conduct or unprofessional modes of practice of which they become aware where the potential for harm exists, or actual harm has occurred, to the appropriate certifying or licensing authorities, state or federal regulatory bodies, and IBADCC. Providers shall obtain supervision/consultation prior to filing a complaint, and document recommendations and the decision regarding filing or not filing a complaint.
VIII-12 Non-respondent	Members of the IBADCC Ethics Committee, Hearing Panels, or Boards of Directors, shall not be names as respondent under these policies and procedures as a result of any decision, or exercise of discretion arising directly from their conduct or involvement in carrying out adjudication responsibilities.
VIII-13 Consultation	Addiction Professionals shall obtain and document consultation from supervisors, consultants, or the IBADCC Ethics Committee when uncertain about whether a particular situation or course of action may be in violation of the IBADCC Code of Ethics. Providers shall consult with persons who are knowledgeable about ethical behaviors, the IBADCC Code of Ethics, and legal requirements specific to the situation.
VIII-14 Retaliation	Addiction Professionals shall not initiate, participate in, or encourage the filing of an ethics or grievance complaint as a means of retaliation against another person. Providers shall not intentionally disregard or ignore the facts of a situation.

PRINCIPLE IX: RESEARCH AND PUBLICATION

IX-1 Research	Research and publication shall be encouraged as a means for Addiction Professionals to contribute to the knowledge base and skills within the addictions and behavioral health professions. Research shall be conducted and published to contribute to the evidenced-based and outcome-driven practices that guide the profession. Research and publication shall provide an understanding of what practices lead to health, wellness, and functionality. Researchers and Addiction Professionals shall be inclusive by minimizing bias and respecting diversity when designing, executing, analyzing, and publishing their research.
IX-2 Participation	Addiction Professionals shall support the efforts of researchers by participating in research whenever possible.
IX-3 Consistent	Researchers shall plan, design, conduct, and report research in a manner that is consistent with relevant ethical principles, federal and state laws, internal review board expectations, institutional regulations, and scientific standards governing research.
IX-4 Confidentiality	Researchers shall be responsible for understanding and adhering to state, federal, agency, institutional policies, and applicable guidelines regarding confidentiality in their research practices. Information obtained about participants during the course of research shall be confidential.
IX-5 Independent	Researchers, who are conducting independent research without governance by an institutional review board, shall be bound by the same ethical principles and federal and state laws pertaining to the review of their plan, design, conduct, and reporting of research.
IX-6 Protect	Researchers shall obtain supervision and/or consultation and observe necessary safe guards to protect the rights of research participants, especially when the research plan, design, and implementation deviates from standard or accepted practices.
IX-7 Welfare	Researchers shall be responsible for their participant's welfare. Researchers shall exercise reasonable precautions throughout the study to avoid causing physical, intellectual, emotional, or social harm to participants.
IX-8 Informed Consent	Researchers shall refer to an Institutional Review Board or Human Subjects Committee to ensure that informed consent is obtained, research protocols are followed, participants are free of coercion, confidentiality is maintained, and deceptive practices are avoided, except when deception is essential to research protocol and approved by the Board or Committee.
IX-9 Accurate	Researchers shall commit to the highest standards of scholarship, shall present accurate information, shall disclose potential conflicts of interest, and shall make every effort to prevent the distortion or misuse of their clinical research and findings.
IX-10 Students	Research shall disclose to students and/or supervisees who wish to participate in their research activities that participation in the research shall not affect their academic standing or supervisory relationship.
IX-11 Clients	Research may conduct researching involving clients. Researchers shall provide an informed consent process allowing clients to freely choose, with intimidation or coercion, whether to participate in the research activities. Researchers shall take necessary precautions to protect the client from adverse consequences if they choose to decline or withdraw from participation.
IX-12 Consents	Researchers shall provide appropriate explanations regarding the research and obtain applicable consents from a guardian or legally authorized representative prior to working with a research participant who is not capable of giving informed consent.
IX-13 Explanation	Once data collection is completed, researchers shall provide participants with a full explanation regarding the nature of the research in order to remove any misconceptions participants might have regarding the study. Researchers shall engage in reasonable actions to avoid causing harm. Researchers shall obtain and document the results of supervision or consultation when scientific or human values may justify delaying or withholding information, prior to delaying or withholding information from a participant.

IX-14 Outcomes	Upon completion of data collection and analysis, researchers shall inform sponsors, institutions, and publication entities regarding the research procedures and outcomes. Researchers shall ensure that the appropriate entities are given pertinent information and acknowledgement.
IX-15 Transfer Plan	Researchers shall create a written, accessible plan for the transfer of research data to an identified colleague in the event of their incapacitation, retirement, or death.
IX-16 Diversity	Researchers shall report research findings accurately and without distortion, manipulation, or misrepresentation of data. Researchers shall describe the extent to which results are applicable to diverse population.
IX-17 Verification	Researchers shall not withhold data, from which their research conclusions were drawn, from competent professionals seeking to verify substantive claims through reanalysis. Researchers shall make available sufficient original research information to qualified professionals who wish to replicate or extend the study.
IX-18 Data Availability	Researchers, who supply data, aid in research by another researcher, report research results, or make original data available shall intentionally disguise the identity of participants in the absence of written authorization from participants allowing the release of their identity.
IX-19 Errors	Researchers shall correct errors found in their published research, using a correction erratum or through other appropriate publication avenues.
IX-20 Publication	Addiction Professionals who author books, journal articles, or other materials which are published or distributed shall not plagiarize or fail to cite persons for whom credit for original ideas or work is due. Providers shall acknowledge and give recognition, in presentations and publications to previous work on the topic to self and others.
IX-21 Theft	Addiction Professionals shall regard as theft the use of copyrighted materials without permission from the author, or payment of royalties.
IX-22 e-publishing	Addiction Professionals shall be aware that entering data on the internet, social media sites, or professional media sites shall constitute publishing.
IX-23 Advertising	Addiction Professionals who author books or other materials distributed by an agency or organization shall take reasonable precautions to ensure that the organization promotes and advertises the material accurately and factually.
IX-24 Credit	Addiction Professionals shall assign publication credit to those who have contributed to a publication in proportion to their contributions and in accordance with customary professional publication practices.
IX-25 Student Material	Addiction Professionals shall seek a student's permission and list the student as lead author on manuscripts or professional presentations, in any medium, that are substantially based on the student's course papers, projects, dissertation, or thesis. The student shall reserve the right to withhold permission.
IX-26 Submission	Addiction Professionals and Researchers shall submit manuscripts for consideration to one journal or publication at a time. Providers and researchers shall obtain permission from the original publisher prior to submitting manuscripts that shall be published in whole or in substantial part in one journal or published work by another publisher.
IX-27 Proprietary	Addiction Professionals who review material submitted for publication, research, or other scholarly purposes shall respect the confidentiality and proprietary rights of those who submitted it. Providers who serve as reviewers shall only review materials that are within their scope of competency and shall review materials without professional or personal bias.
